

PONZI'S FATE IN ABEYANCE

Federal Court Decision on State Trial Not Looked for Till October

It will probably be October, at the earliest, before the Federal court decides whether or not Charles Ponzi, serving a five-year term on a Federal sentence for using the mails to defraud, can be brought to trial in State courts.

Judge Ringham, senior member of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here, today denied Attorney-General Allen's request for an immediate decision on Ponzi's status. Allen had asked speedy action on the appeal which took when Federal Judge Clarence Hale denied him a writ of habeas corpus and virtually delivered him over to the jurisdiction of the courts of Massachusetts.

Judge Ringham's decision was oral. It did not indicate when arguments on the appeal would be heard. Court advocates, however, stated it would very likely be October before the court takes action.

Ponzi is serving his Federal sentence at Plymouth. His big idea in the State courts was to avoid trial in the State courts on something like fifty indictments, in connection with his "get-rich-quick" activities.

Convinced on all the indictments, it might well happen that the little taxpayer would receive a verdict that would keep him in jail the rest of his life.

The La Follette resolution, passed by Congress on record as in favor of recognition of the Irish republic. The House resolution condemns the activities of the "Black and Tans" as contrary to the spirit of the League Convention. This action was taken when reports were read that efforts were being made to suppress the resolution in private. An intensive membership campaign for New England was planned. It will end July 4.

CAPTAIN SCORES LIFE SAVERS

Benham, Home, Says Sable Island Station Ignored Esperanto's Crew

Captain Thomas Benham, in command of the cup-winning schooner Esperanto when she sank off Sable Island, charged today that the lifeboat station on the island made no effort to assist the members of his crew. After they had "sunk" to their deaths, he said, no signals were sent up by the life savers, nor were lifeboats dispatched to the aid of the shipwrecked men, while a report was not even made to the authorities.

It was learned that both Captain Benham and Captain Steele of the Etoile II, which plucked up the Esperanto and carried her to the American consul at Halifax regarding the failure of the life savers to act.

Captain Benham and four members of his crew, whose home are in Gloucester arrived in Boston early today from Halifax, N. S., and took the first train for their home city.

The remaining members of the crew all of whom being in Benham County, N. S., went to their homes there.

While some of the Esperanto men lost all their belongings when the schooner foundered after striking a submerged wreck, others saved a few valuables.

Captain Benham received most of his effects, including the vessel's log, but lost the ship's papers.

The crew of the schooner Etoile II, which rescued the men and brought them to Halifax, made a great effort in carrying them to that city, for they lost nearly a week's sailing as a result. They were happy to think, however, that they were able to render assistance to their fellow seamen.

They were surprised to learn that fears had been expressed for the safety of the crew of the Esperanto as they thought the people on Sable Island had witnessed the rescue and reported it.

Captain Steele of the Etoile II, was concerned of the wreck which caused the loss of the Esperanto about ten years ago he lost a police seine there, which was not obtained in the wreck and also at the same time lost a large school of porpoise. The Etoile has returned to the home.

PLAN TO FEED LITTLE RUSSIANS

The efforts of Dr. Richard Cabot and other prominent Boston citizens on behalf of the sick and wounded of Soviet Russia are to be supplemented by the activities of a new organization which will give special attention to the needs of Russian children. The newly-formed Boston branch of the United States Committee for the Relief of the Russian Children has issued an appeal in which it is pointed out that the Russian children ought not to be left in need because many Americans don't like the way the fathers of these babies do things.

On Saturday next a bazaar and dance will be held at 115 Dudley street, Roxbury, to raise money with which to purchase condensed milk for the babies of Russia. On Sunday a concert and musical meeting will be arranged for the same purpose. Contributions and articles for the bazaar may be sent to Mrs. Anna David, Secretary of the Boston Committee, No. 45 Chambers street.

The authorities alleged today that the motion picture men, during the brief but hectic reign of Mrs. Kingston, were not an automobile inn or roadhouse as advertised, but was an "extortion plant" as certain police officers characterized it. Many of the patrons were "hauled down" according to the police.

MAJOR WAS WATCHED. Investigation in Woburn today showed that two local inspectors had been shadowing the major for some weeks prior to the revival of the motion picture men. It had been planned to hold a celebration in the major on the night following the inauguration of the local city government, but this plan was balked by certain officials who were opposed to Mrs. Kingston and her establishment. They thought it would be unwise for any celebration party to be held under her roof.

REXTON THROUGH PICTURES. The flashlight photograph is reported to have been taken during the maddest period of the revel when the men and girls were in various stages of dishevelment. Some of the men are reported to have been badly compromised by this photograph, which was taken and held up before the public at the time of the Kingston party.

Blind Saleswoman Aims to Aid Sightless Sisters

By MARIE CANNING.
This is the story of the light that shone brightly, after the light had gone.

It is about a little woman who took high courage and high resolve to her purpose, and faced fate, with a smile. And, smiling at fate—that grim, cold-eyed, smiling face—she said: "I will not be a burden to my family. I will work, until the little woman has her share."

$6,000 SONG TITLE TEST TO START WEDNESDAY

One of the questions to be decided before the $6,000 Songs of the World Title Test is launched, on Wednesday of next week, is how to divide the purse.

The suggestion had been made that the simple addition of an additional award of $1,000 will be all that is necessary. The Title Test Editor, if he could have his way about it, would revise the List of Awards in such a way as to make it certain that each of the seven important districts of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and the Dominion of Canada will be sure of at least one award of $250.

AWARDS BY STATES

This plan would work out as follows: If a resident of Rhode Island, for example, earns an award of $250 or more, the Rhode Island contestant with the highest Rhode Island score would receive $250. And so in each of the other districts.

If anybody has any objections to this plan, the Title Editor will be grateful for a word from the objector before Saturday morning.

Word comes from Title Test Headquarters that only 1,131 parcels await their "first check." Yesterday the checkers disposed of 1,467 packages, bringing the total up to 11,724.

The day revealed a new "high score" in the parcel contest. A gentleman residing in Columbia, S. C., produced 32 correct titles. This proves the Title Test to be a big success (in addition to his other well known weakness), his early estimate being that the First Award would be correlated with about 32.

None can tell what any day's digging through the remaining 11,712 parcels may reveal in the way of a high score. But the Title Editor says it will appear that one 32, five or six 25's and a 40, would carry away assistance from one of many 40's, would carry home the bacon. Would it, if today's scores were the final? There remains, you will remember, the extremely important "re-checking" in which spelling is carefully considered along with other essentials. Our friend in Columbia street, therefore, will kindly wait a few days before completing his quest for a new house or a new river. May the best man—may the best man—be the winner. The race is young!

NEW SONG TEST.
The Title Editor does not quite understand, as yet, how he is going to promote the New Test and take care of the old in the same volume of the Movie Play Title Test. However, he will endeavor to do his best. There appears today to be no reason for expecting the List of Winners in the Movie Play Title Test to be out about June 15th.

On that day we shall be twelve Test Pictures short of re-printing the entire lot. In that event these twelve pictures will be printed with the Big News. At the same time, the Title Correct Titles will be printed. With that last blast there will be no further discussion here of the Movie Play Title Test.

The songs of the World Title Test will be eleven days old. After the publication of the List of Winners, together with pictures of and interviews with the Big Singers, columns will be devoted to the Song Title Test exclusively and it will be Good Bye, Forever to Movie Play Titles.

Before somebody arises to ask how in thunderation we can print the List of Winners on June 15th, self-addressed envelopes. All letters will be answered. Please send these rules in mind. Write as often as you like, write any name you like, but give your name and address and, if you prefer an answer, ask for member to enclose a self-addressed envelope.

THIS "FRONTIER" CAPTION WAS NOT TOO EASY

ANSWERS TO FRIENDS

P. A. T.—A reasonable and kindly letter and I thank you for it. But I fail to see the "trick." I do not see anybody "holding" him and I am sure that if you will submit the picture to persons who understand the meaning of "Kismet" (as I know you do) they will say it is the possible title. Mrs. B. L. D.—We must have seen to that family, at any price. I wonder if you can accomplish it with the word "Hoped" or will the battle begin all over again, and center on me? Mr. M. Dorchester—I wouldn't doubt the risk of a typographical misprint, but if you will call me up soon after the 4th of July I shall be glad to oblige.

A. P. G. Fall River—Sorry, but for the reason indicated above I cannot oblige. One slip-up and I should be in the midst of one hundred complaints. A. O. H., Portsmouth—No suggestion of his supremacy in anything can glean from Headquarters. Let him rave.

A. J. R. New Bedford—You are right about No. 12. If you had thought to give me name and address, I would have written you freely, but I cannot find time here for the glory of the World. Kick in with the address.

M. H. E. Wakefield—Shucks, don't mind; for every year one I get ninety nine like this yours. I never seen a letter yet like the one above.

TOO FAT
Indiscreet disclosure of a good looking person's name and address in a letter to the editor is a sure way to ruin a person's reputation. It is also a sure way to ruin a person's reputation. It is also a sure way to ruin a person's reputation.

PLAN TO AMEND INCOME TAX

Representative Kellar Introduces Four Bills for Relief From Present System

Washington, June 2.—Four revenue bills which would provide radical changes in the present taxation system were introduced in the House today by Representative Kellar, Republican of Minnesota.

"These four bills," said Kellar, "will relieve producing business of $1,750, $2,000 annually and the wage of the laborer three to five times this amount in inflated living costs."

The first bill would repeal all existing transportation and sales taxes except those on tobacco, spirit, wine, narcotics, drugs and produce of child labor. It would also repeal the sugar profit, lace and the 10 per cent income tax on corporations.

The second bill would amend the income tax law so as to distinguish between "earned" and "unearned" income. The tax on "earned" income is cut in two. Earned income is defined as income derived from personal service or personally conducted business while "unearned" income is defined as income derived from rents of property, interest on mortgages, bonds and dividends on stocks.

The third bill amends the inheritance tax.

The fourth bill would put a tax of 1 per cent on land value of over $10,000, exempting buildings therefrom.

All of the bills, Kellar said, have the backing of the committee of manufacturers and merchants on Federal taxation.

KILLED BY GUN HE BOUGHT FOR TRIP

Peter Attigall, for nine years a gardener in and around Waverley, died in the Newton Hospital today from a bullet wound which his relatives and friends believe was inflicted while he was working as a gardener.

Recently purchased residence, a Acquaintance, Pleasant, No. 2225 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, said that Attigall was planning a trip to his old home in Europe, and had bought the revolver to take him home. He did not regain consciousness after the shooting.

POLICEMAN'S ANKLE BROKEN BY AUTO

Leo Jones, twenty-six years old of No. 388 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, a member of the police (traffic rating, is at the City Hospital suffering from fracture of right ankle received while on duty at Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenue.

The officer was knocked down by an automobile, ridden by the police, owned by Charles H. Traier of No. 12 Beacon street, and operated by Capt. Fairbanks of Lynn.

Seized Liquor Goes To N. H. Hospitals

Manchester, N. H., June 2.—More than $20,000 worth of liquor seized in different sections of the State which is stored in the Federal Building in Concord will be disposed of, a large part of it to institutions throughout the State.

Judge Edgar Aldrich of the United States Court, issued orders authorizing sales by the United States Marshal at a minimum price of one dollar a gallon to the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in Concord, Home of the Aged, Women's Memorial Hospital and the Old Fellows Home.

The second bill would amend the income tax law so as to distinguish between "earned" and "unearned" income. The tax on "earned" income is cut in two. Earned income is defined as income derived from personal service or personally conducted business while "unearned" income is defined as income derived from rents of property, interest on mortgages, bonds and dividends on stocks.

WHIPPLE ASKS FOR PROSECUTIONS

District Attorney Urged to Act on Legislative Inquiry

Boston, June 2.—Senator Sherman L. Whipple, appearing for unnamed clients, has urged District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier to proceed against persons higher up than members of the Legislature, in the scandal arising from the passage of the act providing for public operation of the Boston Elevated Railway.

This fact became known today when it was learned that the evidence taken before a legislative committee investigating the methods used to secure the passage of the act, had been turned over to the District Attorney.

Pelletier will examine the evidence and if criminal acts are found to have been committed, will present the case to the Grand Jury which begins its duties on July 1. Persons familiar with the subject, however, declare that the evidence falls short of crime, and that the Legislature failed in its duty in not taking drastic action instead of waiting upon the district attorney.

SHLEY PROTEST BRINGS ACTION

Officials Here From Washington to Probe Removal of War Risk Head

That the move meeting on the Common protesting the removal of Dr. William C. Shley, head War Risk official, arranged through the Boston American, has had an effect in Washington is evidenced by the arrival here of Colonel James Emerson and H. H. Hallitt.

Three law officials, representing Colonel H. H. Forbes, who ordered Dr. Shley's removal, began their investigation at once by communicating with officials of the American Legion. They will consider the protest made by the State veterans and report their findings to Washington.

With the Camera Man in His Hunt for Facts and Fads of This Old World

OH, SEE WHAT THE SEA SAW! The waves were wilder than ever at Atlantic City when the quintet went in for their first splash of the season. Incidentally they revealed the latest in bathing suits. Not to mention other things. (L. & H.)

HOCH DER KINDER ATHLETES. Germany may not be world-beaters in other sport or war, but it's not because they don't start their athletes out when they are young. The three lots participated in the recent sport match at Berlin. (L. & H.)

SO ROSSI! This milkmaid is up to more monkey shins. He is none other than "Brooky," the "hummer" again, a little amiable for his coffee au lait, which any good scholar knows is java and milk. "Brooky" got in wrong the other day when he mistook Mrs. Cow for her husband. (L. & H.)

Hobbies!

HOW SWEET? No, Oscar, we mean the hat. Both the chap and the hat are made of lacquered ribbon and are the very latest in fashion fads. (L. & H.)

CHAMPION BOXERS. Most men in all lines of endeavor invariably have an avocation, a relaxation, or some hobby. "Champion boxers are no exception. On the left, Jack Dempsey is short willing away a few minutes with his new telephone, his latest hobby. A complete outfit has been installed in his training quarters at Atlantic City. Every evening he calls up his friends and tells them the training news of the day. On the right, the French ring brawler, Berbier, is seen with his hobby, "Pip," a police dog, which, like his master, saw service during the war. "Pip" and the French champion are boom pals. The latter always accompanies the fighter on his training jaunts, and frolics with him outside the training quarters. (L. & H.)

OVER THE FENCE, BOY! Here is Kiko Tanaka, the Baba Ruth of Japan, who drives homers for the Waseda University nine. This team is now in America playing games with Yank teams. (L. & H.)

THE HUNT IS ON. Miss Becky Lanier of Greenwich, Ct., taking a difficult hurdle on her prize winning hunter at the Devon Horse Show, Philadelphia. Miss Lanier is a skillful rider and in this event won a blue ribbon. The big gray hunter is owned by Frederick M. Bantegou of Providence. The show was one of the most successful of the season. (L. & H.)

GIRL FLIER. At the recent sport meet at Stamford Bridge, England, Miss D. M. Sikes, shown above, won her heat in the 50-yard girls' race. Women athletes from all over England competed and some very fast time for the events was set up. Note the outfit worn by the runner, practically the same as that of male athletes. Permits freedom of limb movement and lessens wind pressure. (L. & H.)

KNEE HIGH TO A HORSE! These two equine beauties are brothers, the property of Lord Ringer of England, who makes horse racing a hobby. Through kindness he has developed in these animals almost human intelligence. (L. & H.)

SHES IN THE SWIM. Vera Steadman is a real mermaid, even though she doesn't wear these clothes in bathing. Imagine what a wreck she'd turn out to be if she ever took a duck in these flimsy duds. Silk stockings notwithstanding. Has the reputation of being the snappiest lady duck among the California bathing boules. (L. & H.)

ALL SET for a snap in the House. Earl Curzon, leader of the House of Lords, logged out in his best Sunday-go-to-meeting garb. Wonder if Cal Coolidge would like to wear this outfit? (L. & H.)

IS JAP PRINCE A FAKE? London papers imply that the Japanese Crown Prince is being impersonated by this young man because the military opposed Prince's recent trip. Photo shows Crown Prince. Jap officials brand story as absurd. (L. & H.)

ALIEN BEAUTY. Baroness Styrzke, who will represent Sumatra in the international beauty fete in Bucharest for the benefit of Rumanian soldiers blinded in the war. The funds will be devoted to their use. (L. & H.)

TODAY'S LESSON. What is this formidable looking thing, children? No, Texas, it isn't a whale, although it looks very much like one. It is, however, a whale of a boat. This sam paid a few cool million for this piece of iron, one of his latest submarines. The craft, the O-3, and it is the latest word in the development of under-sea craft. Has just returned from a long cruise in foreign waters, where it made a tremendous impression. Note the wide diving flippers. Re-semble the wings of some giant flying fish. This type of submarine can dive quickly and gracefully, and with comparatively little danger. (L. & H.)

TO SEND ONLY 3 STARS TO NATIONAL TITLE GAMES

By CHARLES E. PARKER

Should New England content herself with a year seat in so far as national title games are concerned? This is the question today for the New England Athletic Union. The answer is a definite "no" as the union has a long and honorable record in the past. The union has won the national title games in the past and it is not likely that it will lose them in the future. FINANCE AND BUSINESS

By B. C. Forbes

Railroads asked for wage reductions aggregating about $800,000,000. The reductions accounted by the railroad labor board will aggregate about $400,000,000.

In this week-day world if we get half what we hope for we have reason for feeling satisfied.

Railway executive publicly expressed deep disappointment over the mildness of the cut.

Railway labor leaders are saying little, but they are understood to be well pleased with the decision.

A great many corporations today are quite calm concerning the feeling of labor. Such corporations think that the present is an ideal time to "have it out" with labor.

They are not disposed to shrink from taking drastic action when should strikes result, as they feel that they could "lick" the workers under existing conditions. Doubtless executives who feel this way would have preferred much more severe reduction in railway wages even had strikes been thereby precipitated.

After all, however, it is undoubtedly important to have satisfied rather than discontented workers on the railroad. Such a decision has the effect of convincing the employees that their interests are properly safeguarded under the new laws now in operation and now under trial, an extremely desirable result will have been accomplished.

A reduction of $400,000,000 a year in wage schedules is not to be despised by the roads. Such a shrinkage in expenditure will really mean a very great gain to the roads. If the ruling is backed with satisfaction by the rank and file of railroad employees and stimulates them to put forth wholehearted efforts to raise the railroads from their slough of depression and despondency, it will bring about a far greater saving.

An enterprising brokerage firm has had its expert statisticians work out how much with the 12 per cent general reduction in railway rates the earnings per share of the common stock of the principal railroads, and here is the rather astonishing finding:

Name of road	1920	1921
more & Ohio	1.00	1.00
Island	1.00	1.00
apease & Ohio	1.00	1.00
Northern	1.00	1.00
